

THE NAT WEINBERG COLLECTION

Papers, 1931-1974
(Predominantly, 1940-70)

3 linear feet

Accession Number 108
L.C. Number MS

The papers of Nat Weinberg were placed in the Archives of Labor and Urban Affairs in May of 1964. Additional papers were placed in the Archives in early 1974. The collection was opened for research in December of 1983.

Nat Weinberg was born in New York City on February 15, 1914. He began work at 13 after the death of his father. He attended Brookwood Labor College in 1935, and he received a B.A. from New York University in 1942.

He worked as a teacher on WPA workers education projects, and worked for several federal bureaus. He was also a researcher for the ILGWU.

In 1947 Walter Reuther who had met him through Brookwood invited him to join the UAW as Research Director. From 1947 until his retirement in 1973 Weinberg held the title of Director, Special Projects and Economic Analysis.

Weinberg originated the idea of the Guaranteed Annual Wage and of Supplemental Unemployment Benefits. Both of these concepts were formulated with the objective of motivating the automakers to schedule steady work for their workers rather than laying them off for long periods.

In 1968 he was awarded a Ford Foundation Grant to study world economic conditions for one year. He also served as a consultant for many federal and state groups. Among them were: The Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the Committee on Automation and Manpower, and the National Commission on Productivity. He has been an active member of the NAACP and the ADA. He is the author of Adjusting to Technological Change and numerous articles.

Mr. Weinberg's papers reflect some aspects of his work for the UAW, particularly on the subject of the Guaranteed Annual Wage. There is also some material relating to his work for federal agencies prior to joining the UAW.

Important subjects covered in the collection are:

Guaranteed Annual Wage
Labor Education

UAW Education Dept.

Among the important correspondents are:

Harry Chester
Walter Reuther

J.P. Stanley

In 1971 Mr. Weinberg was appointed to the Board of Directors for the Project on Corporate Responsibility. He retired from his position as Director of the UAW's Special Projects and Economic Analysis unit in 1974, but remained active in economic and labor matters. From 1973 to 1974, he worked for the United Nations as a consultant to its Group of Eminent Persons to Study the Impact of Multinational Corporations on Development and International Relations. He also served as a consultant to Rep. Phillip Burton of California in the late 1970s on legislation for protecting loggers displaced by the expansion of Redwood National Park. Weinberg died in 1985.

The Weinberg papers contain correspondence, clippings, articles, reports, speeches, and research material relating mostly to his service as Director of the UAW's Special Projects unit and his work on the UN's study of multinational corporations in 1973-74.
